

PUERTO RICAN PLEADS "SELF DEFENSE" ON MURDER CHARGE

Felipe Malave Serrano, 30, Villalba, Puerto Rico, and Gardner R. 1, was held for court on a charge of murdering a two-and-a-half-hour hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder and was returned to the county jail.

Malave gave testimony at the hearing, but was not sworn in, to protect his rights as defendant in the case, since he was not represented by attorney and had to give all testimony through a Spanish speaking interpreter.

District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter told Malave that the court will appoint an attorney for the Puerto Rican laborer within a few days that he might have time to defend the case when it is heard in November court.

Pleads Self Defense

Asked whether he was guilty of murdering a fellow worker, Eliseo "the barber" Cruz Rodriguez Saturday night at the labor camp of William Lott, Gardners R. 1 Malave, through the interpreter Guillermo Barriga, professor of Spanish at Gettysburg College, answered: "I plead guilty because I was trying to save my life."

The answer was interpreted by the justice as an "innocent" plea based on self defense. The charges against Malave was not read aloud in English, but instead translated into Spanish by Barriga. Barriga was sworn in to "truly translate to the best of your ability" when the hearing opened.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, told of being called Sunday morning at about 2 o'clock to the Lott farm where the death occurred. He said he set the time of death at 1:55 p.m. Saturday.

Death was caused, he said, by death apparently by a knife, into the right ventricle of Cruz' heart.

Death occurred "within ten minutes" after the stabbing, Dr. Crist said, because of the flow of blood into the pericardium after the ventricle was pierced.

Razor And Knife

Most of the testimony at the hearing was given by Bonifacio Rivera, a laborer at the camp, who said Cruz and Malave had started a fight in Rivera's room on the second floor of the house Saturday night.

He said Malave "grabbed" Mrs. Pieta Brady, Carlisle, who was in the room with the men, by the arm. Cruz "came in and told Felipe not to get mixed" up with this woman. Then Felipe said if you get out of here I get out. Eliseo said you get out first." At this point, Rivera said the two men appeared about to fight and Rivera stepped between them.

Rivera said that Cruz then left and returned with a razor and Malave left and returned with a knife. Testimony of Mrs. Brady has the roles reversed with Malave appearing first with a knife.

The two men started a fight in the hallway of the second floor of the building. Rivera said he went downstairs to try to arouse Mr. and Mrs. Rodriguez there "because two men were cutting each other up." Unable to arouse them, he returned to the top of the steps and finally forced Malave and Cruz each to enter their respective rooms. Rivera said he then went to his own room.

Book buying, cut to a minimum for months, has been resumed on a small scale in keeping with the library's financial situation.

Last year the library outgrew its card catalog and additional catalog facilities had to be provided. The book budget suffered so the library was able to buy only 20,000 books in 1955. The book collection at the library now numbers about 24,000 volumes.

More than 500 users of the library are now registered.

PHONE STRIKE IS FELT HERE

The strike of Chesapeake and Potomac Company telephone operators in Maryland and the District of Columbia is affecting long distance service out of Gettysburg. Jack Caldwell, manager of the United Telephone Company here, said today. The strike became effective Tuesday at 11 a.m.

"Long distance calls through the Baltimore exchange may be affected," Caldwell said. "If the Baltimore operators do not answer, the call will be dialed out of Hanover to points in Maryland where the dial system is in effect."

"On calls into the District of Columbia the operators in Harrisburg will do the dialing to those points with dial systems. On calls to Hagerstown and other areas where there are no dial systems delays have been encountered and our operators must wait until the operators in those areas pick up the calls," Caldwell added.

"Then, too, the C&P Company has employed a number of inexperienced operators to offset the strike and this has caused further delay," Caldwell said.

STOCKS HIGHER

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market moved higher in early trading today with gains of 1 to 3 points appearing with some frequency throughout the list.

Activity was heavy at the start and was still going along at a brisk pace toward the end of the first hour.

of Routes 15 and 30 within the next few months. The road signs will announce to tourists their entry to the county and will call attention to the 17,000 acres of orchards, the most concentrated areas in the east, and also the largest fruit processing firms in the county.

Travel Council President Donald V. Manning said "this activity of the fruit growers will benefit the entire county, and helps very much in the promotion of our area."

Secretary John Y. Crow announced that the council now has 149 members. He was authorized to obtain a stove for the Travel Council office in the Western Maryland station.

A lengthy discussion was held on how the various organizations and persons meeting the tourists in the community can coordinate their work for the benefit of all, and provide the tourists with more information. As part of the discussion plans were made for a meeting of a Travel Council committee with the Guides Association to outline plans for closer coordination between the two groups.

Another lengthy discussion was held on a report of the increased prestige and tourist business brought to the community by the residence of President and Mrs. Eisenhower here. The question was raised on whether the report, included in a notice to the members of the meeting Tuesday evening, was a political gesture. A vote showed the 40 members present agreed that the report should not be so construed. It was also agreed that any such reports in the future should be timed so as not to appear during a political campaign and avoid misunderstanding.

NORTH ADAMS PTA TO MEET NEXT MONDAY

The monthly meeting of the North Adams P. A. will be held Monday evening, at 8 o'clock in the York Springs High School. A panel discussion on "Behavior Problems At Home And In The School" will be the feature of the evening. The panel will consist of two parents and two teachers with Rev. Amos D. Meyers as moderator.

The York Springs area will be visited by members of the local Girl Scout Committee on October 8, 9 or 10 who will solicit contributions toward the annual funds drive of the Adams County Girl Scout Council. This is being done all over the county in October. York Springs this year has between 55 and 60 girls registered, making the drive quota $266.67 this year. This money is used by the council for training leaders, providing a better camping program, for supplying equipment and materials for the groups to use as well as a monthly bulletin and information or any information and help to troops and leaders whenever requested.

The district W.S.C. fall rally will be held in the Waynesboro Methodist Church on Friday, October 5, beginning at 10 a.m.

Already Mrs. Charles Miller has moved from the Bruce Wagner apartment across from the cut-rate store. Mrs. Jacob Weidner left York Springs on Monday to go to the United Brethren Church home near Caledonia, where she will reside. They will have to secure water from another source. The homes of Boyd Darr, James Behney along Route 94 and Charles Slaybaugh and Melvin Miller along Route 15 will have to be moved, and also the home of Robert West on a township road.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Masemore, Sarah Jane Griest and Patsy Reynolds made a trip to Woodstock and Culpeper, Va., on Sunday. Enroute they visited Mr. and Mrs. James Garrett at Middletown, Va.

The Mademoiselle Club met at the home of Miss Mary Peters Thursday evening. She showed the group colored pictures of her trip to Europe last summer. The club will hold a card party at the York Springs Scout cabin on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Harry Guise will have chicken corn soup for sale at her home on Saturday morning, October 13. Today's Talk

WELLS OF PLEASURE

I love the mysterious magic of a bubbling spring that one often comes upon in some out-of-the-way place. It keeps flowing and giving out its welcomed coolness. It is so much like the wells of pleasure created by the little extras of life that bubble forth from surprises and unexpected kindnesses and generous acts by others.

What an example we have before us of those who have so little but who glory over the simplest beauties and gifts, and who appraise each as coming from a well of pleasure, without invitation or expectation. One writer refers to such people as the uncomplaining "successful poor."

When we think of all the pleasures and blessings that come to each one of us, unasked for and totally free, it makes us mindful of the over-all love in the world that so often seeks each one of us out, to nourish our courage and faith. Like the flowers "that bend and meet in sweetening others," so do our good deeds brighten up the atmosphere all about us, benefiting the known and unknown.

Each one of us can be a creator of wells of pleasure from which to drink and gain spiritual hope. It isn't from the many that we hear complaints, but from the few who have an over-abundance. A crude rag doll is a possession of wealth to the child, who only knows love.

Wells of pleasure may be simply created and widely scattered, thus leaving behind an appeasement to the hungry of heart, and a new note of cheer to the lonely and discouraged. How instant is the reaction to a kind word or some simple act of unselfish thoughtfulness!

We can even create our own wells of pleasure, by devoting our mind and enthusiasm to something that stimulates interest and initiative. What a thrill comes over the modest collector when an item is secured that he has long sought!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Serenity in Old Age"

No topling of tables; no tinkle of glass;

No tall to sweep trinkets long kept in a mass.

The children sedate with their books in their chairs

And no dog in the dwelling to race them upstairs.

I knew it would happen. The mother said: "No.

We've had all the dogs that I'm eager to know.

I don't want another to care for and feed."

And, of course, with that verdict the father agreed.

But I once heard him sigh in the place where he sat

And I knew he was missing a head he could pat.

No "Let the dog out!" and no "Let the dog in!"

No begging for food when to eat we begin.

Just mother and I and the children about

And never things cherished are tumbled about.

So, just as the fireplace requires a new log,

I guess it is time that we've got a new dog.

EISENHOWER IS AROUSED OVER ADLAI CRACKS

By JAMES MARLOW

AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Either President Eisenhower is mad at Adlai Stevenson for needing him or he has decided to fight harder. What's happening now is beginning to look like a repetition of 1952.

Monday was the first chance Eisenhower had to hit back since Stevenson ridiculed him last week. Stevenson must have stung. Eisenhower poured sarcasm on Stevenson. The two men belittled each other as a leader.

And Eisenhower is beginning to use some of the very words — "bunk," for instance — he threw at the Democrats when he got fired up in the 1952 campaign.

In the early days of the 1952 race Stevenson, a much wittier man in those days, repeatedly jibed at Eisenhower, calling him a "me, too" candidate and otherwise making light of him.

No Laughing Matter

At last Eisenhower boiled over. Sweeping across Indiana in mid-September 1952 he made one speech after another complaining about Stevenson's humor. He told the crowds:

I can't be amusing in this business. These are not laughing matters on which we are speaking. . . now as we face the issues of this campaign I see nothing funny about them."

Stevenson replied that he was just saying what came naturally. As the campaign picked up speed, Eisenhower identified Stevenson with President Truman, calling them the "Stamens twins."

And he said: "This has been some campaign. The present incumbent (Truman) and his protegee have assailed me with the greatest collection of film-flaming accusations made in any campaign."

"Bunk" was one of his favorite words for what the Democrats were saying. He said they were "malicious." He accused them of "slander."

He hasn't gone that far as yet in this campaign. But he must have decided he was too relaxed for he has decided to campaign harder.

There is little wit in Stevenson this year. The light touch is all but gone. And even Truman, who didn't think much of Stevenson as a campaigner before the Democratic convention, has praised him for his new "give 'em hell" approach.

Touche of ridicule for Eisenhower crept into Stevenson's speeches early this year. On Sept. 22 and 23 he said "I respect the kindly intentions of President Eisenhower" and that he was "willing to believe" Eisenhower didn't "understand what he was saying" when he talked of the farm problem in 1952.

Scornful Attack

Then he added he suspects Eisenhower of "political expediency" in dealing with the farmers this year. On Sept. 26 at Kansas City he made his most scornful attack on Eisenhower so far.

After accusing Eisenhower of failure to live up to his "responsibility of leadership," Stevenson said: "In fact, many people have wondered how much President Eisenhower has had to do with the Eisenhower administration. Sometimes the President seemed to wonder himself."

"There is only one question to be asked about the Eisenhower administration. That is: 'Who's in charge here anyway?' Who, in this businessman's administration keeps the store?"

"Least Experience"

On Monday Eisenhower went to Ohio and Kentucky and made two speeches. He didn't mention Stevenson by name, but there could be no doubt whom he meant when he said:

"We all know that there are people who suffer from living in a world of words and phrases for so long that they can no longer recognize action when they see it."

"And — when it comes to a really critical matter like political leadership — we recall a fact that all of us have seen in our own daily lives: The longest lectures almost always come from those with the least experience."

Nab Steelton Man On Lottery Counts

HARRISBURG (AP) — A nearby Steelton man has been arrested on lottery counts in what Dist. Atty. Huethe F. Fowling said was another phase in a crackdown of a million dollar numbers combine in central Pennsylvania.

Alphonos Graybill was formally charged with being concerned with the operation of a lottery before Alderman Elizabeth A. Wagner on Sunday. He was arrested in a state police raid at a nearby Linglestown residence Saturday.

Dowling described the arrest as "a capital pinch." Graybill was released in $1,000 bail pending a hearing at a later date.

The district attorney said a number of slips and cash seized in the raid were part of "the operations of the central Pennsylvania numbers combine which provides its operators with one million dollars profit each year."

TRUCK UPSETS; DRIVER BURNED

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — A truck driver burned to death Tuesday when his tractor-trailer overturned and caught fire on the Baltimore Pike one mile east of this southeastern Pennsylvania community.

The victim was identified as Harold E. Lux, of Lebanon, Pa., an employee of the McIntosh Material Co. of Harrisburg. Police said he had been a stock car racer on central Pennsylvania tracks.

The crash occurred about 6 a. m. EDT. Lux was believed on his way to Sunbury, Pa., with a load of road oil. Police said he apparently lost control of the vehicle and the heavy truck swerved off the highway, struck two trees and a utility pole before overturning.

Lux was trapped in the blazing cab. Another driver for the same company, Paul R. Fritz, of Newport, Pa., saw the accident in his rear-view mirror and turned back but was unable to rescue Lux.

Traffic on the pike had to be detoured for an hour as firemen from Kennett Square and Longwood, Pa., put out the blaze.

Kidnaper Goes To Trial November 5

MINEOLA N.Y. (AP)—The trial of Angelo J. LaMarca on charges of kidnapping and murdering little Peter Weinberger has been reset for Nov. 5.

Nassau County Judge Cyril J. Brown fixed the new date Monday after the Brooklyn Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court turned down LaMarca's plea for a change in the location of his trial.

The trial was scheduled to begin here Monday. LaMarca's attorneys maintained that he could not get a fair trial in Nassau, on Long Island, because of widespread publicity given the case.

The 32-day-old Weinberger baby was kidnapped July 4 from the patio of his parents' Westbury, N. Y., home. His body was found Aug. 24 in a honeysuckle thicket near Plainville, N.Y.

IKE IS FIRING BACK AT FOES; SAYS OPPONENT IS "CONFUSED"

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's campaign foray into Kentucky and Ohio pointed up how he now is firing back at Adlai Stevenson despite a September assertion he would leave the replies to other Republicans.

In a nationwide television-radio address Monday night at Lexington, Ky., and in a speech during the day at Cleveland, Ohio, Eisenhower replied to his Democratic opponent on a good many points although he never once mentioned Stevenson by name.

The closest Eisenhower came to naming Stevenson was to allude to the Democratic nominee as an "apparently confused candidate" on the issue of federal aid for education. That reference brought one of the biggest rounds of applause from the capacity crowd in the 15,000-seat University of Kentucky Coliseum.

Crowds Love It

In the Lexington speech Eisenhower also cut loose at the Democratic-controlled Congress — and the Republican rally he was addressing loved that, too.

All told, the crowd applauded 42 times during the President's talk. He also got a rousing ovation when he was introduced and when he concluded.

Eisenhower envisioned 70 million jobs "at good wages" for Americans if he is re-elected. He reported September figures showing 66,100,000 persons at work.

Can't Recognize Action

He prefaced his jabs by saying "political oratory . . . at its most reckless has plunged to the wild extremes of charging this administration with such fabulous failings as not guarding the peace — and not caring for the welfare of any humble citizen or any needy family in our land."

Then he added: "We all know that there are people who suffer from living in a world of words and phrases for so long that they can no longer recognize action when they see it."

The applause and laughter that thrust touched off still was echoing when Eisenhower got another round after saying:

Confused On Education

"And — when it comes to a really critical matter like political leadership — we recall a fact that all of us have seen in our own daily lives: The longest lectures almost always come from those with the least experience."

Police Seeking 2 Missing Students

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police said Tuesday an eight-state alarm has been sent out for a teen-age girl and her male college student companion who failed to arrive at Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J., Monday night from their homes in the Philadelphia area.

The missing pair were identified as Barbara Sarvis, 17, of suburban Drexel Hill, Pa., and Joseph L. McLaughlin 3d of nearby Wynnewood, Pa., a student at St. Joseph's College.

Police said Miss Sarvis is a student at the school in Princeton. She and young McLaughlin had planned to attend a choir recital Monday evening and then McLaughlin was to drive the girl to her school.

Westminster College authorities today said the girl failed to arrive at the school. She was described as an attractive blonde. She was wearing a white blouse and checkered skirt.

McLaughlin is 5 feet 8, weighs 150 and has brown eyes. His hair is crew cut.

cause of diminishing profits.

The milk commission, headed by Chairman Joab Mahood, is conducting the hearings at the request of dairymen and dairy farmers associations.

Albert Brandon, assistant city solicitor for Pittsburgh, challenged Milroth's figures, saying "it does not necessarily follow that the dairies went out of business for lack of profits."

Pittsburgh, along with private groups and individuals is opposing proposed price increases.

Mahood said the commission also would "consider the disastrous effects of the excessive rainfall on the hay and grain crops of Western Pennsylvania."

Scheduled to testify in addition to farmers and dealers are expert witnesses on rain-damaged crops and consumer problems. The experts are Dr. A. Pauline Sanders of Irvona, Clearfield County, who will give the consumer's side, and the Rev. Robert L. Cocklin of Newville who has been making a survey of crops damaged by rain.

Counties affected are Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Crawford, Fayette, Greene, Lawrence, Mercer, Venango, Washington and Westmoreland.

JAILED, FINED

Yankees Slim Favorites To Win First Game Over Dodgers Today And Are Picked To Take Series

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—Either out of force of habit or because of their past winning ways New York ruled a solid 8 to 5 favorite to defeat Brooklyn in the 1956 World Series but was only a 6 to 5 choice to win today as the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the Dodgers' Sal Maglie squared off in the opener at Ebbets Field.

A crowd of about 34,000 jammed the ancient Flatbush ball park with Dwight D. Eisenhower, the first president to attend a World Series game in 20 years, scheduled to throw out the first ball.

Fans not fortunate enough to obtain tickets, had a choice of watching it on television (NBC) or listening on network radio (Mutual).

Strategic Contrast
Maglie against Ford is a strange contrast and not only because 39-year-old Sal is righthanded and 28-year-old Ford throws left. Maglie, oldest pitcher ever to open a World Series, has never won a postseason game although he has started two. Ford has won three, two over the Dodgers. In his only series start at Ebbets Field, he lasted only one inning.

Maglie, the elder, was working with only three days rest. Ford had not pitched since he failed in his bid for victory No. 20 last Wednesday.

"Ford Is My Best"
Yankee Manager Casey Stengel's explanation for nominating Ford in a park considered a southpaw's graveyard was simple:

"Ford is my best pitcher," he said. "I can't afford to hold him out until the third game."

Dodger Manager Walter Alton's reason for going with Maglie was equally as simple.

"Sal has been the club's best pitcher over the past two months," he said. "He's won our clutch games and there is no one I'd like better to pitch such an important game as this one."

Not A Pitching Series
With due respect to the proven ability of Maglie and Ford, this does not figure to be a pitching series. In fact, it looks very much like the hitters, led by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer and the Dodgers' Duke Snider, Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo, will take charge.

The world championship may very well go to the team with the stoutest relief pitching. That's one department where the Dodgers hold the edge over the Yankees. The American League champs, who whipped the Dodgers five straight times in World Series competition until they were beaten last year, don't have anyone to match bullpen ace Clem Labine and Don Bessent.

Alston did not consider the ex-haunting pennant race a disadvantage.

Not In Four Straight
"I'm counting on the momentum to carry us through," he said.

Stengel's only comment was: "I expect to win every game I play, but I don't see how anyone can win this in four straight."

Both teams were at full strength but three Yankees and one Dodger were not at their physical peak. Mickey Mantle, who missed most of the '55 series, is still bothered a bit by a groin injury; second baseman Billy Martin has an aching back and 40-year-old Enos Slaughter, who will patrol left field, has a bad toe. The diagnosis of Roy Campanella's perennially aching right thumb is: "Not in good shape but it has been worse."

Lineup Intact
The lineups that will see the penants will remain intact for at least the first game.

Alston, who first had intended to bench southpaw-hitting Sandy Amoros against left-handed pitching, switch Junior Gilliam to left and play rookie Charlie Neal at second base, changed his mind yesterday.

"I thought it over," explained Alston, "and decided to stick with Amoros because he's hot. When Sandy is hot, he can hit anyone."

MAGLIE AFTER FIRST WIN IN WORLD SERIES

By WILL GRIMSLEY

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn's Sal Maglie is intent on getting a World Series victory because, he says, it would complete his three-point goal.

The goal:
To win 20 games in one season in the majors—(He won 23 in 1951 with the New York Giants).

To pitch a no-hit game—(He did against the Phillies Sept. 25 of this year).

To win a World Series game—(He still hasn't done it).

Crusty Casey Stengel, manager of the Yankees, is hard to catch with his quips down.

During yesterday's workout, a reporter asked Stengel if he realized that the Yanks had gone 16 Series innings (since the first inning of the sixth game last year) without scoring a run.

"The mischief," Casey blurted. "We've gone more than that. We had three scoreless innings at H-wall."

Yankee scouts have told Stengel that he must be more afraid of Maglie than Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' 27-game winner. Newcombe, they say, is pitching "tired ball."

"Maglie's fast ball is much faster," Ed Lopat, the onetime Yankee junkman told Casey, "but his setup pitch isn't worth much any more. He has about as sharp a breaking curve as there is in baseball."

Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn's veteran shortstop, probably will feel lonesome out there without Phil Rizzuto as an opponent.

Reese and Rizzuto began their World Series rivalry in 1941, played opposing shortstop in six series after that, but Rizzuto has been cast off by the Yankees and will attend the 1956 show as a spectator.

The Voice of America will broadcast a delayed play-by-play description of the series in Japanese to the 20 million baseball fans in Japan. This should be interesting. How do you describe a Chinese home run in Japanese?

TOP OLYMPIC OFFICIALS TO EASE PLEDGE

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—Top Olympic officials, meeting in emergency session here tonight, are expected to modify at least temporarily the rigorous and controversial anti-professional pledge introduced in the new Olympic rules.

The executive commission of the International Olympic Committee, convened by I.O.C. President Avery Brundage, may decide to suspend the amateur-intention phrase in the new pledge until after the Melbourne games, and so meet the widespread criticism of the pledge for the time being.

Brundage himself, anxious to preserve the amateur status of Olympic athletes, was one of the main supporters of the new pledge. It was not certain how he and the nine other senior Olympic officials would feel about suspending the pledge, but some I.C. sources said privately it was difficult to see what other course was open.

Over Vigorous Protests
The pledge, under Article 34 of the new rules, requires each Olympic athlete to sign this declaration, printed on the official entry form:

"I, the undersigned, declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

The words "and intend to remain" were introduced for the first time by the new rules published in July.

Sports organizations in the United States, Europe and Australia have protested vigorously. Brundage, before leaving the United States for the Lausanne meeting, said "some amplification and explanation" of the wording would be necessary.

YOUNG MOTHER FAILS IN PITIFUL ROBBERY TRY

CLEVELAND (AP)—A young mother failed in a pitiful attempt at a bank robbery yesterday, and police were puzzled at her motive.

They arrested Mrs. Maybelle Millard, 25, mother of four children, and wife of a 30-year-old veteran who lost both legs in France during World War II.

She is accused of trying to rob a shopping center branch of the Cleveland Trust Co. with a note demanding money. She carried no gun, and left without loot when the woman teller rang the alarm.

Got License Number
Police saw her drive away in a 1955 station wagon and took the license number. She was arrested when she drove up to her comfortable, hunch-ly home in suburban Highland Heights about three hours later.

Her husband, Richard, 30, draws a disability pension and is employed as a finisher by an optical firm. He said his wife had been under doctor's care for a year.

The bank teller, 30-year-old Mrs. Florence M. Rees, said the woman showed three rolls of pennies at her and a piece of children's drawing paper, on which was crudely lettered:

To File Charges
"Don't say anything. Give me your money. I have a buddy at the door with a gun on you."

Mrs. Rees opened a drawer, pressed the alarm button and gave the woman a dollar bill and two quarters in exchange for the pennies. The woman picked up $1.25 and left.

Mrs. Millard was taken to county jail. FBI District Chief H. O. Hawkins said attempted bank robbery charges would be filed.

BOY ARCHER BAGS BUCK
CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP)—Twelve-year-old Lee (call him Robin Hood) Hughes today is a big hero in his school.

Lee on Monday bagged a 150-pound buck on a hunting trip with his physician-father as Pennsylvania's bow and arrow season got underway.

The young archer, who turned 12 only last Thursday, killed the deer at a range of 20 yards. He used a 37-pound bow.

Simon Bolivar was liberator of six South American republics — Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, Panama, Bolivia and Peru.

HEAVY SCHOOL GRID PROGRAM DURING WEEK

A pair of junior high football games are scheduled for Thursday as forerunners of a big Friday program for the senior high varsities.

Gettysburg Junior High, losers to Delone 20-0 in opening their season Monday, meet Washington Twp. on the latter's field Thursday evening in a South Penn Junior High League game. In another league game Thursday, Chambersburg plays at Shippensburg.

Littletown Junior High opens its season at Delone Thursday.

This afternoon at 3:45 Hanover's seventh and eighth graders play at Biglerville Junior High.

Cancellation of the local junior varsity schedule leaves Gettysburg without a home contest this week. Bolling Springs had been scheduled to play here Thursday afternoon.

Warriors Away
In Friday's senior high program Biglerville, Littletown and Delone have home contests while Gettysburg takes to the road.

Coach Howard Shoemaker's Warriors meet Mechanicsburg on the latter's field in a South Penn affair. The Warrior coach became ill Tuesday at school and is now confined to his home due to "flu."

Biglerville's up-and-coming Canners will host West York in a Laurel Conference game while undefeated Littletown will entertain Dallas-town in another conference game at Littletown.

After four consecutive games on foreign fields, Delone Catholic plays its first home game at McSherrystown against Westminster.

OKLAHOMA AND MICHIGAN STATE PICKED TO WIN

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—While studying these predicted winners of this weekend's football games, just remember that the forecaster is the same chap who picked Cincinnati to win the National League pennant.

Last week's lack of upsets lifted the season's total to 81 for .815.

This week's winners:
Oklahoma over Kansas State: By as much as the Sooners want to make it.

Michigan State over Michigan: It will be close but the belief is the Spartans will take it, perhaps by only a point.

Ohio State over Stanford: Hop-along Cassidy is gone but the Ohio Staters supposedly are stronger than ever.

Mississippi over Houston: Mississippi has 24 of last year's Cotton Bowl champions.

Texas Christian over Arkansas: Jim Swink carries the Texas Horned Frogs to victory in full view of a nationwide TV audience.

Another TV Win
Tennessee over Duke: Johnny Majors is rated the best running back in Dixie. He plays for Tennessee.

Southern California over Wisconsin: The Trojans give the Pacific Coast Conference a rare triumph over the Big Ten.

Pittsburgh over California: Joe Walton, Pitt end, one of the country's best.

Army over Penn State: Each team will rely on sophomores. The Cadets will have to do without Gene Mikelonis, speedy halfback.

Other Selections
South Carolina over North Carolina: The South Carolina line makes the Gamecocks the favorites.

Baylor over Maryland: By the narrowest of margins.

UCLA over Oregon: Oregon had to hustle last week to beat Idaho by a single touchdown.

Skipping over some others:
Navy over Cornell, Colgate over Holy Cross, Dartmouth over Penn, Princeton over Columbia, Yale over Brown, Harvard over Tufts, Minnesota over Purdue, Southern Methodist over Missouri, Notre Dame over Indiana, West Virginia over Texas, Illinois over Washington.

Panthers Score High For Lambert Award
NEW YORK (AP)—The Pittsburgh Panthers scored a maximum 10 points yesterday in the year's first balloting for the Lambert Trophy, symbolic of eastern college football supremacy.

Pitt, bidding for its second consecutive Lambert award, was trailed by Syracuse, 8-2; Army, 7-2; and Navy and Penn State, 6-3 each.

Almost 125,000 foreigners are now gainfully employed in Sweden, mostly in mining and metal industries.

Shooting Match Near Emmitsburg

The Francis X. Elder American Legion Post, Emmitsburg, will hold a shooting match Sunday, October 14, at 1 p.m. on the "Bud" Shorb farm, one and one-half miles north of Emmitsburg on the Gettysburg Rd. Turkeys, hams and other prizes will be awarded.

A 12 gauge Ithaca pump gun will be given away.

Contestants may use only 12 gauge shotguns.

Shells will be furnished.

PICK BEECHAM IN CONSTANCE FIGHT TONIGHT

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Up-and-coming Jim m y Beecham makes his television debut against ringwise Hector Constance tonight in a 10-round welterweight fight for the Babe Zaharias Cancer Foundation.

The Philadelphia 21-year-old probably will be a slight favorite, mainly because he beat Constance, 25, last December in a match at Caracas, Venezuela.

The loser called that decision "atrocious" while Beecham pointed out that, even so, "It sure was unanimous."

Constance, of Trinidad, is an extremely fast counterpuncher. He said he "never makes a prediction" before a fight, but hoped to prove he could whip Beecham.

Beaten By Gavilan
He has a record of 25 victories, 8 draws and 8 losses. He knocked out 7 opponents. He lost to Virgil Akins at St. Louis in his only match this year.

Beecham, winner of 14 out of 16 has trained hard for this match. His manager, Angelo Dundee, lopped off 60 rounds of scheduled sparring because Beecham was working out too hard.

Former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan beat him in Havana six weeks ago. The only other fighter that took his measure was Charlie Joseph, who broke Beecham's jaw.

The fight will be televised and broadcast nationally by ABC, starting at 9 p.m., EST.

FAIR WEATHER OPENS SERIES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Showers ended and skies cleared in most of the Northeast today and fairly pleasant autumn weather was indicated for the opening game of the World Series in Brooklyn.

Warm and clear weather also was the outlook for most of the southern part of the country. Showers were general along the Gulf Coast and through the lower Mississippi Valley into Tennessee yesterday. Heaviest falls were under one inch at New Orleans and Jackson, Miss.

Showers were reported during the night from southern Utah southwestward into Southern California. Rain was in prospect for the far Northwest as a new storm neared the coastline.

Temperatures were 10 to 15 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier in most of the northeast this morning, although there were some exceptions. Philadelphia's 62 was 12 degrees lower than yesterday while Syracuse, N.Y., with 55, was 14 degrees above the reading 24 hours earlier.

GHS Jayvee Grid Schedule Off; Lack Manpower

Gettysburg High School's junior varsity football schedule for the remainder of the season has been cancelled. It was announced today by George Forney, athletic director.

The primary cause for the move is lack of sufficient backfield manpower for the junior varsity and varsity who play on successive days—Thursday and Friday. Injuries to key backs recently cut the supply while Coach Howard Shoemaker fired two players from the squad Tuesday as a disciplinary action.

All scheduled opponents have agreed to drop the games while Forney also made cancellations with officials and for transportation.

The local jayvees were impressive in defeating Waynesboro 34-0 last week and were scheduled to meet Bolling Springs here Thursday.

IVY LEAGUE IS ASSAILED FOR GRIDIRON STAND

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, says that Ivy League schools are writing the obituary of the sport they created—college football.

His recommendation for pumping new life into the game is to fire 90 per cent of the college presidents.

The outspoken Redskins owner told the Philadelphia Football Writers Assn. yesterday:

"The trouble with college presidents is that most of them wanted to play football, but couldn't make the team. Now they're taking it out on the athletes with all their ludicrous rules."

What's Wrong.
"Why such great institutions as Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth, Harvard and Pennsylvania are taking it upon themselves to destroy the game they created, I don't know."

"And that's what they're doing, making a sound, solid effort to destroy the game."

"What's wrong with giving a boy a scholarship to play football? Is it any different from giving a scholarship to a kid who stars on a debating team?"

Marshall let fly at the Pacific Coast Conference, too. He termed "idiotic" the penalties recently imposed on West Coast members for alleged violations of conference rules.

CHALLENGES IKE TO TAKE LEAD IN ENDING TESTS OF HYDROGEN BOMB

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
TEANECK, N. J. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson challenged President Eisenhower Tuesday to "take the leadership" in a move to ban hydrogen bomb tests and suggested Russia is willing to go along.

Renewing his campaign call for an end to testing of large-scale nuclear weapons, the Democratic presidential nominee declared:

"The renunciation of such tests is a step which I think the great powers are now willing to take — if there is leadership in this direction. It is a step that can be safely taken for no one can explode a hydrogen bomb in secret, and each would know whether the others were acting in good faith. It would be a step along a new path toward peace."

Since only the United States, Britain and Russia are known to possess nuclear weapons, Stevenson obviously included Russia when he said he thinks "the great powers" are willing to suspend H-bomb tests.

Stevenson's assertion that a hydrogen bomb cannot be exploded "in secret" apparently was a reply to Eisenhower's Sept. 19 dismissal of his proposals as a one-sided "theatrical national gesture" in the absence of enforceable international agreements.

Stevenson, who accused the Eisenhower administration Monday night of failing to provide leadership in the field of education, renewed his proposal for suspension of big-scale nuclear tests in a speech prepared for an audience at the Fairleigh Dickinson University campus here.

8 Talks Scheduled

It was one of eight talks Stevenson scheduled in a day of stumping New Jersey after a flight from Washington. Included were an afternoon speech at Newark and a rally tonight at Jersey City.

In his prepared Teaneck speech, Stevenson expressed regret that the Eisenhower administration, as he puts it, "has not pressed forward along this path to peace as so many have urged — Catholic, and Protestant religious leaders, distinguished scientists, prominent educators, yes, and serious politicians."

Stevenson said also that the administration "seems to have ignored what appears to be an increasing desire to close the gap between East and West on such subjects as mutual inspection and limitation of armed forces."

There is a "danger" in insistence on "perfect, foolproof answers," he said and added:

Must Be Vision

"We must always press toward those answers and not be content until we get them. But we cannot afford to reject small gains."

"That the world has never yet achieved a system of universal and enforceable disarmament surely does not prove that it never will."

"Surely," Stevenson continued, "there must be sufficient vision to save the human race from contaminating its own air, from filling the upper atmosphere with malignant elements which may have incalculable effects on humanity."

On Military Force

He said the beginning of practical thought about peace "is the complete conviction that war is no longer a practical means of adjusting differences between nations."

"Peace is more than an uneasy truce during which armed forces peer anxiously over insecure frontiers, as in Korea today," he said.

"This country must retain 'the ability to deter possible foes from aggression,'" Stevenson continued, but "we have talked so much about atom bombs and our skill in

MANY FRENCH CRITICAL OF FOREIGN POLICY

By CARL HARTMAN
PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly opened its fall session Tuesday in an atmosphere of mounting dissatisfaction with a foreign policy linked so closely to that of the United States.

Debate on the Suez Canal controversy and the Algerian rebellion are expected to bring such criticism to the front when the Assembly tackles those issues later in the month.

Feeling has been growing in some quarters that there has been a lack of support and understanding from the United States on these prime problems confronting France.

No Longer Cornerstone
Sen. Auguste Pinton, secretary of state for public works, highlighted that line of thought in a report to a local organization of his Radical party.

"Might an alliance with Russia have profited France more than one with the United States?" Pinton asked.

He went on to suggest that the Atlantic Alliance no longer be considered the cornerstone of French foreign policy and that it be replaced with a "European understanding." Pinton said it was his opinion that Britain would be quick to join such a move.

Critical On Suez
Much criticism also has been voiced in Britain of the U.S. stand in the Suez Canal dispute. U.S. refusal to go along with military action against Egypt is widely credited with nullifying British and French threats to occupy the Canal zone unless Egyptian President control of the waterway he took from the British-French Suez Canal Co. July 26.

Pinton's statement, although not necessarily representing the government's position, appeared to reflect Premier Guy Mollet's recent expression of "bitterness and anxiety" over what he called a lack of support for France from some of its allies in the Suez crisis.

Some anti-U.S. talk has been even stronger in private, and it has come from politicians who are strongly anti-Communist.

devising even more terrible weapons" that the world has "gotten the idea that all the problems of our turbulent and revolutionary age are to be solved by the weight of military force."

Says Ike Has "Failed"
In a Washington statement Monday night, Stevenson called for a five-point federal aid program to help provide 50,000 more teachers and build 100,000 new classrooms yearly. This was the second of a series of "major affirmations" which he says will guide his course if he is elected president.

The Eisenhower administration, he said, "has utterly failed to develop a comprehensive policy for education" and to offer "strong leadership in the cause of our most valuable resource — our children."

Reds Get Preview Of New Ford Car

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow got a look at the 1957 Ford Monday—two days ahead of its unveiling to the public in the United States.

The black, low-slung sedan belongs to the U. S. State Department. It is one of eight Fords sold to the State Department at $1 each for use by the embassy staff in Moscow. The Ford Co. said the idea is to let the Russians see what Americans are being offered in the new car line these days.

The new model was flown here by Ford from Detroit. Monday morning it was sent into Red Square on an official errand. Muscovites are car-minded and the new model quickly won a lot of attention.

Russians crowded about the Ford when it was parked in front of the National Hotel—a tourist center. When the hood was opened the car almost disappeared from sight under the crowd.

The model, a Fairlane 500, four-door sedan, is 56 inches high and 174 feet long. Six other sedans and a station wagon are on the way.

MINE OPERATORS SENT TO PRISON

POITTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Two mine operators have been sentenced to prison for a year each on charges growing out of the death of five miners in 1952. Judge Vincent J. Dalton, in passing sentence Monday, said the two defendants should have been tried for manslaughter.

The operators, Aurelio Cano, 52, and Charles Martin, 36, both of Minersville, also were fined $2,000 each.

Judge Dalton asserted that it was "a big, big mystery" to him why Cano and Martin had not been charged with manslaughter. "The record shows they could have been convicted on that charge," he added.

In reply, Robert M. Harris, Schuylkill County district attorney, said the state attorney general's office, rather than the county prosecutor, handled the case.

No Safety Precautions
Cano and Martin were convicted of failure to take proper safety precautions in the mine although they had been warned that operations were coming close to old workings which likely held water; of failure to provide an efficient brake on drums used to raise and lower miners and material; of failure to report air measurements to mine inspectors; and of failure properly to store explosives in the mine.

Donald C. Dolbin, special counsel for the commonwealth, told the court that Martin had served 5½ years in prison for larceny and that Cano had jumped a Spanish ship when he was 25 and had been in this country ever since without passport, visa or any other kind of permit.

Defense counsel asked for a delay in carrying out the sentence pending an appeal to the State Superior Court.

Says Adlai Is Amazingly Wrong
CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) says Adlai Stevenson's suggestion that the draft could be eliminated in America shows a "complete misunderstanding of the problem" by the Democratic candidate for president.

The former Pennsylvania governor said Monday night Stevenson was "amazingly wrong" in making that

COMPENSATION BOND POSTING BEING STUDIED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Leader Administration today studied the possibility of requiring that employers post a bond before being allowed to appeal a decision authorizing unemployment compensation to workers.

A source, who declined quotation by name, said such a request may be made to the 1957 Legislature in answer to a State Supreme Court decision outlawing such payments until all appeals are disposed of.

"We are of the opinion that posting a bond—or similar plan—is needed to keep frivolous appeals out of the picture," he told a newsmen. "As it stands now, an employer will be able to stop— for the price of a three-cent stamp — actual payments for weeks or months."

"Unconstitutional"
The high court handed down a decision in Pittsburgh on Monday describing as unconstitutional a long-standing arrangement whereby idle workers began to receive checks after two administrative decisions in his favor.

The arrangement also had provided that the employee need not refund the money if the State Superior Court ultimately decided against him.

The Supreme Court ruling was handed down in the case involving the long Westinghouse Electric Corp. labor dispute. Still to be determined is whether the dispute was a strike or a lockout.

Strike Ruling
A strike ruling would mean no jobless benefits for the workers who left their posts last Oct. 17 and didn't return until months and another suggestion which Duff said called for a halt in nuclear bomb tests by the United States.

"To hold out to the American people the possibility of eliminating the draft is to hold out a hope that, if followed, would prove disastrous in the maintenance of our military strength to resist the communists," Duff declared.

On the nuclear tests, Duff contended "you can't provide an adequate police force for a community by reducing the police force and stopping the pistol practice."

"Let us talk softly, as Theodore Roosevelt said, but in the name and for the purpose of peace let us carry the big stick," Duff reminded.

"Both the draft and the H-bomb are necessary for the continued possession of the big stick," he added.

Nearby Trucker Burns To Death

FORT LITTLETON, Pa. (AP)—A Cumberland County trucker burned to death in the cab of his trailer-truck early Tuesday after a crash with another rig on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

State police identified the victim as Robert L. Norris, 34, of Mechanicsburg R. 3. The driver of the other vehicle was Louis A. Gilbert, 41, of Willoughby, Ohio. Gilbert was not hurt.

State police said the rig operated by Norris smashed into the rear of the other trailer and burst into flames. Norris was wedged in his cab and perished.

The crash occurred five miles west of the Fort Littleton interchange about 2 a.m. EDT.

later.

Dr. Leonard P. Fox, executive director of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, said it was "gratifying" to have the court uphold its position, "when told of the court decision."

"This is a victory for all of the nearly 200,000 employers whose tax payments exclusively finance U.C. benefits in Pennsylvania," Fox said in a statement.

FIND BODIES OF TWO IN SUBWAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The bodies of a Philadelphia man and an attractive young New Jersey woman were found Monday night in a dimly section of a north-central Philadelphia subway.

Detective Daniel O'Mahoney said it "seems to be murder and suicide" in the death of the couple, both employees of a Philadelphia pharmaceutical firm.

The victims were identified as Miss Claire Perkowski, 21, of Westville, N.J., and Roy W. Luther, 40, of Philadelphia. She had been shot three times and Luther twice by a German Luger found near Luther's outstretched hand.

A sawed-off shotgun, which had not been fired, was found against a nearby pillar of the subway.

O'Mahoney quoted the girl's parents as saying she had been "going with Luther for about six months but broke off with him several weeks ago."

He said a note and several letters and pictures were found in Luther's pockets. The note said that unless a reconciliation were effected the writer was going to "do something drastic," O'Mahoney said.

Investigators said the shootings may have occurred about an hour before the evening rush hour, when the bodies were found. There were no known witnesses.

The Chicago White Sox won its 1956 season series against the Cleveland Indians, 15 games to 7.

TO SEE WHERE CHILDREN OF OFFICIALS GO TO SCHOOL IN D.C.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Steps are being taken to supply a special House subcommittee with a list of how many government officials in Washington send their children or grandchildren to racially mixed schools in the nation's capital.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) and comprised largely of Southerners, made the request shortly before concluding hearings on Monday into the effects of integration of white and Negro children in District of Columbia schools.

Dr. Hobart M. Corning, superintendent of schools, said he would supply the list. It is to cover the children and grandchildren of President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Supreme Court Justices, Cabinet members, White House aides, senators, House members and District of Columbia commissioners.

Students Roughed Up

The subcommittee wound up its probe the same day the U. S. Supreme Court began a new session. During the weeks and months ahead the high tribunal is expected to tackle a heavy docket of cases studied with problems of racial integration in the public schools.

Elsewhere on the troubled segregation scene two Negro students were roughed up at Beaumont, Tex., legal maneuvers continued in Dallas, and the white boycott of integrated elementary schools at Henderson, Ky., was reported losing much of its punch.

At Beaumont, pickets from a new White Citizens Council roughed up two unidentified Negroes and prevented them from attending night classes at Lamar Tech College. The students were not injured. Two other Negro students were met by police at the campus and told to go home. They did.

White Picket Line
Police estimated that about 150 white adults set up a picket line at one entrance to the college. They carried placards with slogans such as "rebels with a cause" and "keep our education system white." Later they moved to the college administration building. About 30 police patrolled the campus.

Lamar Tech, a four-year state-supported school, was ordered to admit Negro students this year by a Federal District Court. It has about 5,000 day students and 1,300 night students. There are 26 Negroes enrolled in day classes and seven in night classes.

At Dallas, the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People lost one round in a move to use federal courts to stop the newest Texas drive against school integration suits, but Federal Judge W. H. Atwell told the organization it could file a suit later.

In Kentucky, the Henderson County Board of Education asked its attorney to explore the possibility of obtaining injunctions against any person interfering with operation of the integrated Weaverton elementary school.

The step was taken after police had to clear a path through a shouting crowd attempting to prevent Mrs. James Clancy, a Negro mother, from leaving the school parking lot after driving five Negro pupils to school. The pupils were taken from the school by bus in the afternoon without any trouble.

Despite this incident, officials reported the boycott by white pupils appeared to be losing ground.

SOPH PREXY TO GET WELCOME

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP)—A college sophomore class president, kidnapped by freshmen Sunday and given a one-way flight to New York, was flown home Tuesday to a triumphal, brass band reception.

A fellow classmate at Claremont College said a rubber manufacturer whose son attends the school is footing the bill for the return flight of 19-year-old Tedd Determan.

"The sophomores at Claremont and the girls at Scripps College are taking up a collection to pay him back," said the spokesman, who wished to remain anonymous. The colleges are administratively associated.

A band of freshmen took Determan from his dormitory room here Sunday night and put him

MORE FOREIGN MINISTERS HERE FOR SUEZ TALKS

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Private talks on the Suez Canal dispute moved into high gear today with the arrival of more foreign ministers for the first U.N. airing of the controversy.

The 11-nation Security Council will open its Suez debate Friday afternoon. Seven foreign ministers are expected to be on hand, including Egypt's Mahmoud Fawzi.

Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Koca Popovic of Yugoslavia already were on the scene and engaged in a busy round of conferences.

Shepilov Coming

Russia's Dmitri Shepilov, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, Christian Pineau of France and Fawzi were flying in today. Secretary of State Dulles was expected Friday.

Britain and France were preparing a resolution for the council calling for international control of the 103-mile waterway nationalized by Egypt July 2. They counted on U.S. support.

Yugoslavia and other nations were reported working for a compromise. The Soviet Union has backed Egypt in the canal dispute.

Discussions

Lloyd and Pineau were to meet tonight at dinner with Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. representative on the council.

A British spokesman said the resolution was on paper but that revisions still were being discussed. He confirmed published reports that the resolution would ask the council to recommend (1) that Egypt cooperate with canalizing countries in provisional arrangements to keep the waterway open to all nations and (2) negotiate a final settlement based on the majority proposals from the first London Suez conference.

Those proposals, backed by 18 of the 22 nations attending the mid-August parley, called for an international board linked with the U.N. to operate the canal. The plan was rejected by Egyptian President Nasser.

Any such British-French resolution faced the possibility of a Soviet veto in the council.

Western sources said the United States, Britain and France are determined to push for council endorsement of an international control plan.

Clock Tries To Solve Time Mix-up

GREENCASTLE, Pa. (AP)—The Greencastle borough clock is making its own mechanical effort to solve the Daylight-Standard time problem.

Pete Eshleman, head of the borough maintenance crew, reported the clock face shows Standard Time, but it rings Daylight Time. The mixup came when the community reverted to Standard Time Sept. 30. Most communities in Pennsylvania are remaining on Daylight Time until the end of October.

Efforts to get the clock chiming in time with its hand so far have been to no avail, Eshleman said.

aboard a flight to New York with a one-way ticket.

A spokesman for the freshmen said they were retaliating in a new way for the sophomores' annual custom of cutting off the freshmen's hair. Heretofore, he said, the practice has been to kidnap the sophomore president, take him to Mt. Baldy and shave his head.

The soph representative said rubber manufacturer Willard Voit of nearby Arcadia had volunteered the return fare "so Tedd can get back and not miss classes."

GOP Leaders Hope Stauffer Will Win In Ike's District

By RELMAN MORIN
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—It looks close in Pennsylvania.

If the national elections were held tomorrow, President Eisenhower probably would win in his adopted home state. The prevailing opinion here is that he has a slim lead over Adlai E. Stevenson — at this stage of the presidential race.

But election day is still weeks away. Meanwhile, political tides are running, and statewide trends have developed. The question is: Are they likely to change what seems to be the present picture? Is time working for either party?

The GOP has a 16-13 edge in the state's congressional delegation and both sides predict they will win "three to five" more seats this fall. The Republicans are especially anxious to see S. Walter Stauffer regain his seat from the 19th district.

That's the one in which the President's farm is located.

This correspondent recently criss-crossed Pennsylvania, taking soundings in the cities and on the farms, talking to merchants and miners. Here are some general conclusions.

DEMAND DOWN FOR CROSBY'S RECORDINGS

LONDON (AP)—Bing Crosby said today the demand for his recordings is down to a "faint whisper" because he is running plumb out of drive and enthusiasm.

The old groaner, a topline for three decades, made his comment in a letter written from Hayden Lake, Idaho, to the popular music column in the Daily Express.

The column recently did a treatise on the 52-year-old crooner entitled, "Is Bing Crosby going out—or has he gone?"

"I'm 'long gone,'" Crosby replied, explaining:

"I just don't sing as well as I used to.

"I'm just not as enthusiastic as I used to be. The feel for a song isn't there, the desire to sing, to be in action — and when this is absent, so is the style.

"I don't think increasing age has got anything to do with it or that the pipes are getting rusty, because I believe voice quality has very little to do with public acceptance of a popular singer.

"It's the style and mood they create that put them over."

Crosby said his waning enthusiasm will not, however, keep him from recording "here and there and now and again."

BOSTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration will ask Congress to consider tax relief for the operations of small businesses, Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams said Monday night.

He told the Conference of Small Business Assn. that a report by the Cabinet Committee on Small Business recommended reduction of the corporate tax rate from 30 to 20 per cent on income up to $25,000.

NEW OVERTURE USES CLEANER, POLISHER, RIFLE

LONDON (AP)—One of Britain's young composers has completed a "grand overture" which features a vacuum cleaner, an electric floor polisher and repeating rifles.

"My overture," said Malcolm Arnold, 35, "is to be part of a concert at Royal Festival Hall on Nov. 13. I admit that some people may call it crazy, but basically it's a serious work."

He got the idea of using vacuum cleaners while writing music for a British film. "The cleaners have a wild woodnote effect."

How about the electric floor polisher that he plans to plant among the violins and violas?

Divine Effect
"This supports the vacuum cleaner, adding a rhythmic whoosh to their song."

And the repeating rifle? "I'm planning to use four rifle-men with the orchestra," he said.

"Each will fire four rounds of blanks to establish the key rhythm of the opening movement."

A Chopin nocturne will be played by a quartet of bass tubas. A highlight will be a symphony based on Haydn.

"The familiar slow movement," said Arnold "will be produced by musicians blowing down the necks of partly filled hot water bottles, a divine effect."

LEAVES HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—David E. Watson, chairman of the Philadelphia Republican Committee and a member of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, has been discharged from Albert Einstein Medical Center where he was operated on for a brain tumor last Sept. 8.

Watson was stricken shortly after he became the city GOP leader. He was released from the hospital Monday. His wife said the 64-year-old commissioner will recuperate at home for at least a week.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

EX-CORONER IS JAILED, FINED

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—J. T. Ferris, 51, former Bucks County coroner and onetime county Republican chairman, has been sentenced to 6 to 23 months in prison and fined $300 for falsifying his fees as coroner.

Ferris, of Ottsville, pleaded no defense in Montgomery County Court Monday. He had asked for a change of venue from Bucks County. Judge George C. Croson heard testimony before imposing sentence.

Donald Van Artsdalen, Bucks County district attorney, said Ferris charged fees for autopsies which were not performed and overcharged on fees for autopsies which were done. He allegedly made $2,420 by fraud, Van Artsdalen said. By agreement with defense counsel, all but 29 of 64 indictments against Ferris were dropped. He received a suspended sentence on a number of the charges pressed.

Second Yank Dies In Premature Blast
LANDSTUHL, Germany (AP)—A second U. S. Navy man died Monday night of injuries received in the premature explosion of a shell during antiaircraft exercises aboard the U. S. Destroyer John R. Pierce. Seven of the 11 other injured men were reported in acritical condition.

One sailor of the 13-man gun crew was killed outright when the shell exploded Monday in the breach of a 5-inch gun while the destroyer was operating in the Mediterranean off the French Riviera.

The other 12 men of the gun detail, all injured, were flown to the Army hospital here for treatment. One was pronounced dead on arrival.

HEADS DENTAL GROUP
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dr. Cloyd Schultz of Lebanon, Pa., was installed Monday as president of the American Dental Society of Anesthesiology, succeeding Dr. William Kinney of Ogden, Utah. The society is meeting in conjunction with the annual session of the American Dental Assn.

PLANS ACTION ON "ILLEGAL" HOUSE PROBES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William L. Dawson (D-Ill.) said Tuesday he plans to "do something" about what he termed the "illegal" House investigation of the impact of racial integration on the Washington school system.

The hearings, before a special House District of Columbia subcommittee, ended yesterday, at least for the present.

Dawson, one of three Negro House members, declined to say just what action he would seek against the school investigating group. But he hinted he might move to curtail its funds.

"I am going to question their right to do something illegal with the taxpayer's money," Dawson said in an interview.

No Permission
On Monday, before he knew the hearings were to end, Dawson said the subcommittee was meeting without authority because he said it did not have "the indispensable permission" of the House to sit when the House was not in session.

The inquiry by the predominantly Southern subcommittee touched off both criticism and praise. Critics said it was slanted against integration; supporters said it properly brought out the "facts." Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.), a member, said Tuesday the subcommittee "at least broke through the iron curtain of security" he said had been thrown around school integration here.

Corning Queried
The Washington superintendent of schools, Hobart M. Corning, underwent five hours of questioning as the final witness on Monday.

Among other things, he challenged subcommittee counsel William Gledhill's statement that Washington's public schools were a "mess" following integration in compliance with a Supreme Court ruling against separate classrooms for white and Negro pupils.

Teen-ager Found Drowned In Pool

CARBONDALE, Pa. (AP) — The body of Susan Herhenreder, 14, was found yesterday by a custodian in the pool of St. Rose School.
Dr. Charles Speicher, Lackawanna County deputy coroner, said the girl suffered a deep gash over the left eye. He said it was possible she incurred the cut in a dive and was stunned, causing her to drown.
School authorities said she apparently went into the indoor pool in an option swimming period during a gymnasium class. The gym and pool are in different parts of the building.

Did you know that near-sightedness is most likely to develop between the ages of six and ten?
Often it comes on quite suddenly, even though a previous test only a few months ago showed no need for glasses.

SEVEN MURDER TRIAL JURORS ARE ILL TODAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Seven jurors in the murder trial of Frank J. Ellsworth were ill with respiratory ailments today. Judge Joseph Sloane said he would determine after medical examinations whether to delay testimony.

The court adjourned yesterday afternoon after the illnesses became known. Dr. Arthur Thomas, a police surgeon, examined the seven jurors. He told Judge Sloane he believed “all would be better off if they could take a 24-hour rest.”

Prior to the adjournment, Mrs. Adelaide Walker of Philadelphia testified that the murder victim, wealthy Mrs. Lulubel Rossman, had been “excited and seemed very upset” the day before her body was found.
Ellsworth, of Tampa, Fla., and

Omaha, Neb., is one of four men originally accused of the crime. The state maintains that Ellsworth and Raymond P. Wilson of Tulsa, Okla., were hired by Robert W. Thomas and Gus A. DeMoss to rob Mrs. Rossman and killed her while taking some $200,000 from her.

Wilson was convicted in May and sentenced to life imprisonment. Thomas, a former Dade County, Fla., deputy sheriff, and DeMoss, a suspended Tulsa police radio dispatcher, are awaiting trial.

Mrs. Rossman was found strangled in her hotel apartment July 4, 1955. Mrs. Walker, who identified herself as a friend of Mrs. Rossman, said the 7-year-old widow called the day before to cancel a motor trip.

“She told me,” Mrs. Walker said, “that she had just sent a money order to Thomas, that Thomas was up in an airplane going to Jamaica with tommyguns looking for Ridgway.”

The reference was to the Rev. Richard Ridgway, an evangelist preacher. Previous witnesses have said Mrs. Rossman befriended the Rev. Ridgway and later became suspicious that he was taking money from her.

Thomas was hired to investigate, it was testified.

Mrs. Rossman said in the telephone call that Thomas had said he feared for her safety and was going to move her to another hotel, Mrs. Walker testified.

Of the 17 individual football records held by University of North Carolina players, former All-American tailback Charlie Justice holds 12.
